- Details: This schedule is subject to change. We will post a final schedule, including a day-by-day breakdown, information about instructors, and brief course descriptions, in early May.
- Breakout Sessions: During registration, you will be asked to provide information about your interest and experience in each of the following areas:
 - Byzantine Notation
 - Chant Basics
 - Conducting
 - Prosomia and Liturgics: for chanters
 - Vocal Techniques
 - *Western Rite Music*Each track will be continuous, offering multiple hours of instruction throughout the SMI. Participants may choose one track to follow or attend sessions in multiple tracks.
- General Sessions: Morning presentations vary by day, but evening sessions follow the same basic pattern: a talk about a section of the Divine Liturgy, presentation of new music from that section of the Liturgy, and rehearsal for the next day's services, during which participants will have the opportunity to sing under a variety of different directors.
- Small Group Instruction: By popular demand, we are setting aside time each day for teachers to meet with small groups to work on repertoire, technique, or any other area of particular interest or concern. A limited number of spots will be available with a variety of instructors with backgrounds in chant and choral music. Signup information will be available when the finalized schedule is posted.
- Youth Music Ministry: Based on feedback from past YMM participants, this year they will join the adults for specialized instruction in their area of choice during breakout sessions. As a group, YMM will meet each day during the General Sessions and Small Group Instruction.
