

December 13th - Herman of Alaska - Stichera at "O Lord, I have cried" - 2

7

tel - ling things to come and fore - warn - ing the proud of heart.
nev - er - fail - ing fount of the kind - est be - nef - i - cence.
 while thē un - clean fiends fled with ter - ror at thy re - buke.

8

Where - fore, thy might-y works were crowned, a peo - ple was saved through thee, Thou wast the new A - pos - tle of God's love to thē Al - eut tribes;
 Clothed in the Ho - ly Spir - it with the pow - er of mir - a - cles,

9

and from the seeds of thy sow - ing, the fruit of and thine own coun - try - men al - so didst thou turn thou wast the meek - est of ser - vants, con - sol - ing

10

mar - tyr - dom graced our land, re - joic - ing the plant - er, back from un - god - li - ness; and all with thanks - giv - ing all and sub - du - ing all with Christ - like af - fec - tion and with joy, O Her - man, thou didst re - quest his prayer for thee.

11

sang thy praise as their com - pas - sion - ate heal - er in the Lord.
 that was man - i - fest in la - bors be - yond the strength of man.