

Helping Moms and Children in Need

The Treehouse takes women on a referral basis from local pregnancy crisis centers.

Not all women who are referred to us are abortion minded. The centers refer women to us who are in dire need of assistance during or after their pregnancy.

- ◇ Every new life is a miracle to be celebrated.
- ◇ Every child has a unique and valuable identity and a child's potential should not be hampered by difficult birth circumstances.
- ◇ Heartfelt care joined to material assistance is vital to fostering the dignity of mothers and babies in need.

"It is not how much you do, but how much love you put in the doing."
Mother Teresa

During a recent meeting a speaker came from a local pregnancy crisis center to talk to the mothers about abortion. They began to talk about protestors, graphic abortion pictures, and people who are pro-life. One of the moms made the comment that Christians have a lot to say against abortions but they aren't there to support the moms when they choose to keep the baby. The speaker then reminded them about this place, The Treehouse. The moms initially had a hard time comparing us to the Christians they had previously come in contact with. The Treehouse chases to let Christ's love shine through by the way the staff and volunteers deal with our moms on a daily basis.

The Treehouse handles the women that come through our doors with great care. We do not know the backgrounds they are coming from and the state of their gentle spirits. Our job is to show them Christ's love and to help nurture their hearts and souls. God willing we will continue this ministry for many years to come.
