Ne, Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Today, the glory of the martyrs shineth forth, and the radiance of the pure contests gloweth resplendent, resplendently in the memory of the martyr among the priests, Jacob, who is calling us to enjoy the feast. Through

Therefore, let us praise him as it is right, saying: O all blessed martyr of Christ, Jacob, do not forget us as we once forgot thee, but in thy compassion intercede unceasingly that our souls be saved.
Both Now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

Amen.

Who shall not beatiy thee, most holy Virgin?

Who shall not praise thy birth giving, free of travailing and pain?

For the only Son rising timeless

from the Father, Himself did become in carnate from thee in an inexplicable way.

He, Who while God by nature, be-

-came for our sakes Man by nature,

not divided into two persons, but

known by two natures without mixture

or confusion. To Him, O noble

and most blessed one,

plead for the salvation

of our souls.
