October 13th
Hieromartyr Jacob of Hamatoura
Exaposteilarion & Theotokion

Byzantine Chant Tone 2, Second Mode
Special melody: Upon that mount in Galilee

Chadi Karam

G E - -

Like a palm tree thou didst flourish, and like a cedar didst thou grow. A lighthouse thou didst come to be, leading and guiding every soul. Our beatiﬁed father,

E Un. E Un.

Jacob, the righteous God-bearer, whom all the faithful do exalt, and, like thee, worship and glorify the

E Un. G

Lord, and who celebrate with a fervent

G Un. E

passion on thine adored and solemn feast that gleameth

G Un. Un. G

with most radiant light.

English translation from Arabic by Elio Nicolas & Chadi Karam. Music metered and arranged by Chadi Karam.
Antiochian Orthodox Christian Archdiocese of North America, Rev. 4, 9/18/19, CAH
O thou Virgin immaculate, our Mother, pure and holy, Jacob the hermit, who did live on thy most sacred mountain, did praise thy Son in his life on earth, and he did glorify thee. Thou didst never fail to help and deliver him from perils and distress, through thy tender mercy, O spotless Lady, who truly art adored and praised by all the angels and mankind.
Exaposteilarion and Theotokion

Second Mode

(Special Melody: Upon that mount in Galilee)

\[ \text{Exaposteilarion and Theotokion} \]

\[ \text{Second Mode} \]

\[ (\text{Special Melody: Upon that mount in Galilee}) \]

Like a palm tree thou didst flourish, and like a cedar didst thou grow. A lighthouse thou didst come to be, leading and guiding every soul. O our beatiﬁed father Jacob, the righteous God-bearer, whom all the faithful do exalt, and, like thee, worship and glorify the Lord, and who celebrate with a fervent passion on thine adored and solemn feast that gleam-eth.
O thou Virgin immaculate, our Mother pure and holy, Jacob the hermit, who did live on thy most sacred mountain, did praise thy Son in his life on earth, and he did glorify thee. Thou didst never fail to help and deliver him from perils and distress, through thy tender mercy, O spotless Lady, who truly art adored and praised by all the angels and mankind._