

May 27th

Hieromartyr Helladios

Stichera at "O Lord, I have cried"

Byzantine Chant Tone 1
Special melody: O all-lauded Martyrs

Adapted by Dn. John El Massih

1) Em - ploy - ing the dye of thine own blood, thou didst ren - der thy di -

- vine and priest - ly ves - ture ex - ceed - ing bright; and be - ing clad there - with, thou hast made thine en - try in that King - dom found on high and stand - est at the throne of the Mas - ter, Whom do thou now im - por - tune O Hel - la - di - os of god - ly mind, that He grant peace and great mer - cy to our souls.

2) Hel - la - di - os, man of god - ly mind, when Christ looked on thee, He healed thee by His grace from the dis - charge of thy sore - ly griev - ous wounds;

for in clear - ly choos - ing to be tor - tured for His sake,

May 27th - Hieromartyr Helladios - Stichera at "O Lord, I have cried" - 2

thou pa - tient - ly didst bear — ev - 'ry man - ner of af -
- flic - tion and dis - tress. Do thou there - fore in - ter - cede with Him that He grant — peace and great mer - cy to — our — souls.

^D
3) The na - ture of fire didst thou sub - due and a - bod - est in its midst un - burnt, for thou wast en - com - passed with the cool - ing dew of God, which kept thee with - out — harm, while it put to o - pen shame thine e - vil - mind - ed en - e - mies. Where - fore, do thou now en - treat the Lord, O Hel - la - di - os of god - ly mind, that he grant — peace and great mer - cy to — our — souls.